

ESFJ

Your life's motto: “What can I do for you?”

Loves to help people, enthusiastic, good team member, likes community, good speaker, conservative & traditional by nature, high values, good follow through & attention to detail, likes interpersonal relationships and working with the public, resourceful.

Your life's challenges:

Slow down

Consider possibilities that don't already exist

Don't take things so personally

You are especially satisfied with work that:

Lets you establish and maintain warm and genuine interpersonal relationships with other people working to in ways to improve their quality of life

Has practical benefits for people and gives you time to learn and master necessary skills before using them

Lets you exercise control and help people work harmoniously toward a common goal

Has clear expectations and where your performance is judged upon established criteria

Is done in a cooperative environment free from conflict and tension

Lets you make decisions and use efficient procedures to see that all details are carried out to your specifications

Gives you plenty of opportunities to interact with other people throughout the day and be an integral part of the decision-making process

Lets you organize your own work and that of those around you to ensure that things are run smoothly and efficiently

Is done in a friendly environment where you feel approval and support and can be friends with your co-workers

Is done in a setting with existing structure and where authority is respected

Some careers you may find particularly satisfying; this is not a full list of careers, just some possibilities.
